INTRODUCTION

NewHaven is fine furniture for kitchens, bathrooms, offices and closets.

Artisans that specialize in specific tasks have been selected for their skills to carry the NewHaven brand. Our furniture makers collaborate with the best lumber mills, sustainable millwork suppliers, door makers and drawer box builders to craft each project one at a time. The completed build is then transported to a local finish shop known for applying premium furniture finishes that will hold up to the most demanding environments.

This art of old world furniture building is coupled with interior architecture expertise from the talented designers at The Cabinet Shop using modern CAD technologies. The result is a true harmonious collaboration between Amish artisans and the team at The Cabinet Shop to provide you with an experience you will enjoy and quality furniture that will last a lifetime.

You can be assured that the amount of personal pride that goes into the build of your cabinetry is unmatched. Lester, Marcus, Steven, David, Eddie and Orrin are a handful of names that you will soon come to know. They all have had a hand in making your dreams into reality.

NewHaven is truly something special.

HISTORY

For generations, nestled in the heart of Amish country, our craftsman have created high quality furniture one job at a time using only the highest level of craftsmanship and proven quality materials.

For years, The Cabinet Shop has earned a unique, exclusive partnership with these families to craft the NewHaven brand. Cabinetry built to our specification to meet our quality high expectations.

Throughout each stage of our process we pay careful attention to detail. Our finish quality is the same you would expect from fine furniture. The end result is the perfect fit for your home.

PRACTICES

NewHaven and the Amish lifestyle have significantly less overhead, a smaller manufacturing footprint and sustainable practices that naturally cut down on costs.

We are bypassing multiple channels of distribution-selling directly to the consumer. Furniture and cabinetry that carry the NewHaven brand is far more affordable than what you would expect.

Craftsmen that are involved with the building of your cabinetry only use the energy that they have created. Solar, Geothermal and other means of generating energy have always been their way of life.

Wood-waste and sawdust is re-purposed to heat homes, fertilize gardens and provide bedding for their animals. It is their duty to the environment to work only with suppliers that follow the same principles. Every opportunity they have to replace trees with new seedlings is embraced.

Options are endless...

Choose from a standard door or make it exclusively yours by choosing your inside/outside door profile, stile/rail size, and panel.

Our designers will walk through the many custom interior options as well. Anything we dream up, our craftsman can make.

Choose any color from well known, popular paint brands such as Sherwin-Williams or Benjamin Moore. If you can't find the right color, one can be custom made. Our stain options are custom curated and are on trend. We have no problem custom matching stains too.

We also have walnut drawers available for a look that is not just high quality but beautiful as well.

Each cabinet is custom designed in-house, by our experienced designers. Then carefully constructed by our craftsman with a lifelong tradition of custom woodworking.

Our design process is both thorough and concise.

CREATIVE CONTROL

Custom means, just that, custom.

NewHaven designers and craftsman can do virtually anything, from bookshelves, to flat front cabinetry to free standing vanites or furniture.

If you can envision it, NewHaven can build it.

We work with your inspiration and ideas and translate those into a design that fits your space.

You will work directly with The Cabinet Shop designers who understand not just the art of cabinetry design but also the specifications required throughout the construction process.
